CHIEF SECRETARIAT POLITICAL BRANCH 15 APR 1919

It is now settled law that a pleader cannot engage himself in "trade" or "business." Whether he can conduct a political newspaper consistently with his duties as a legal practitioner is a question which does not seem to be free from doubt.

There does not appear to be any objection to give permission to a legal practitioner to edit and publish a political newspaper. In this respect no distinction can be drawn between a political and a non political newspaper.

Even assuming that there is some difficulty ~~objection~~ and in my opinion there is none from a professional point of view - this will be a matter between him & the Chief Court.

S i r,

In reply to your D.O. No.G.20454-5/37-18-61 dated 12th March 1919, I write to say that Mr. Ranga Iyengar is an advocate practicing here. Since about two years, he has been editing a weekly news paper here known as the "Tumkur Vartamana" started under the auspices of the District Committee. He has now asked to be relieved of the editorship of this paper. Perhaps he wants to start a paper, which is evidently independent of Government help and in which, consequently he can express his views freely and gain some influence as a journalist. There can be no harm in giving permission to edit the paper he wants.

I have the honour to be,

S i r,

Your most obedient servant,
